NOTICE CONCERNING ASSESSMENTS OF PLACES FOR THE NATIONAL HERITAGE LIST AND THE COMMONWEALTH HERITAGE LIST

The Australian Heritage Council, as required by sections 324JG and 341JF of the Environment Protection and Biodiversity Conservation Act 1999, hereby gives notice that -

- (a) the Council is assessing whether the places in Schedule A meet any of the National Heritage Criteria (each place must have outstanding heritage value to the nation) and whether the places in Schedule B meet any of the Commonwealth Heritage Criteria (a place must be an eligible Commonwealth place and have significant heritage value);
- (b) in relation to each place in the Schedules, persons are invited to make comments to the Council on whether the place meets any of the criteria of the list for which it is being assessed and whether the place should be included in the heritage list for which it is being assessed;
- (c) the date by which all such comments are to be made is 7 August 2009;
- (d) comments must be in writing provided by hand, post, facsimile or email and must address one or more of the following:
 - (a) whether the place meets any of the criteria of the list for which it is being assessed;
 - (b) if the place meets any of the relevant criteria — a statement about how it meets those criteria; and
 - (c) whether the place should be included in the list for which it is being assessed;
- (e) the Council must consider any comments received, but in assessing the places against the relevant criteria, the Council must not consider any matter that does not relate to the question of whether the place meets the relevant heritage criteria;

(f) all comments should be forwarded to the following address:

The National Heritage List (NHL) includes places with outstanding natural, Indigenous or historic heritage value to the nation.

The Commonwealth Heritage List (CHL) includes natural, Indigenous and historic heritage places on Commonwealth lands or waters or under Australian Government control, that have significant heritage value.

Nominations

Anyone can nominate a place for the NHL or CHL through a public nomination process. The fact that a nomination has been made does not necessarily mean that a place has the required heritage values for listing.

The nomination and assessment process is open and consultative. Any public comments provided to the Council in response to this notice must be brought to the attention of the Minister.

The Australian Heritage Council assesses whether or not a place has heritage values using the relevant criteria and provides its assessment to the Minister. In making its assessment, the Council must only consider whether the place has heritage value.

The decision on whether to include a place in the NHL or CHL is made by the Minister.

Protection

The heritage values of a place included in the NHL or CHL are protected under the Environment Protection and Biodiversity Conservation Act 1999. This means that a person cannot take an action that has, will have or is likely to have, a significant impact on the heritage values of the place without the approval of the Australian Government Minister for the Environment, Heritage and the Arts. It is a criminal offence not to comply with this legislation.

For further information on the places in the schedules please contact the Council or search the Australian Heritage Database on the Internet at <http://www.environment.gov.au/cgi-bin/ahdb/search.pl>. The criteria for inclusion in the lists are at: <http://www.environment.gov.au/heritage/about/national/criteria.html> and <http://www.environment.gov.au/heritage/about/commonwealth/criteria.html>.

About 12,600ha, comprising the inner historic area of Canberra including Designated Areas ([i] Central National Area excluding Airport precinct; and [ii] Inner Hills) and inner FCAC/FCC garden city suburbs gazetted in 1928 (Yarralumla, Deakin, Forrest, Griffith, Kingston, Barton, Reid, Braddon, Turner , Ainslie).

Canberra and Surrounding Areas:

About 146,000ha, comprising:

- All land in the Designated Areas as defined in the National Capital Plan
- The River Corridors, and the Mountains and Bushlands
- Extant elements of the 1918 Griffin Plan and the 1925 Gazetted Plan which have set the framework for Central Canberra, including the avenues, open spaces, structures, axial lines and subdivision geometries (many of which are not covered by the National Capital Plan)
- Early garden suburbs of the Federal Capital Commission, and other prototypical suburbs in Central Canberra by subsequent planning agencies (including the former National Capital Development Commission) up to 1984; and
- The river corridors and landscape views of the Brindabella's that form the backdrop to the city when viewed from the hill tops in the National Capital Open Space System around Central Canberra, and as described by Griffin as forming the backdrop to the 'amphitheatre' of central Canberra, i.e.: ' the purple distant mountain ranges; sun-reflecting, forming the back scene'.

Specifically excluded:

1. Within the built environment of Central Canberra: all land outside the public domain that is not within the Designated Areas as defined in the National Capital Plan – i.e. residential and commercial land, buildings and structures outside the avenues, streets, parklands, parkways, key vistas and major public buildings comprising the historic layout of the city. Exceptions include the principles of building height control, setbacks, and no-front-fences which preserve the essential character of Canberra as a city in the landscape; and the early garden suburbs where architectural fabric and streetscapes (i.e. the ‘private realm’) are important to heritage significance (such as those entered on the ACT heritage list as Canberra’s Early Garden City Planned Precincts in Ainslie, Braddon, Reid, Kingston, Barton, Griffith and Forrest).
2. In the New Towns: all the urban areas including buildings, roads, and open spaces which are not part of the continuum of the National Capital Open Space System comprising the Inner Hills Ridges and Buffer Spaces.
