

Landgate services

FACTSHEET

Delivered by the WA Land Information Authority, trading as Landgate

Landgate services in the Indian Ocean Territories

Landgate delivers a land information base that provides: certainty of ownership and land boundaries, geographic features and other interests in land, independent and impartial valuation services in support of collection of rates, taxes and management of property assets, and coordinated capture and access to essential location information.

The services provided by Landgate support the economic footing and prosperity of the Territories.

What does this mean for me?

Landgate provides a range of services to the Territories communities including:

- information about land ownership, land boundaries and geographic features;
- valuation services including valuations, stamp duty assessments and valuation rolls; and
- access to land and location information, including: titles, property details, valuations, property sales reports, maps, and aerial and satellite imagery.

It is estimated that 0.5% of land on the Cocos (Keeling) Islands and 0.5% of land on Christmas Island is privately owned.
